LOCAL NEWS.

Street drill was held on Fort street last night.

Mr. C. M. Cooke and family returned by the Alameda.

The steamer Planter will resume her regular route this afternoon.

His Majesty was at the wharf yesterday when the Alameda arrived.

A double effect will be shipped to Hakalau by the steamer Lehua.

The Myrtle senior crew were out for practice last night for the first time.

An auction will be held at the Hawaiian Bazaar at ten o'clock this morning.

E. P. Adams will sell the lease of the premises at the Oxyale sale at 10 o'clock today.

Full and interesting foreign news summaries will be found on our first and fourth pages.

Miss Eva Neumann, daughter of Hon. Paul Neumann, returned by the Alameda yesterday.

Honolulu Engine Co., No. 1, will give a ball at the Yosemite Skating Rink on October 1st.

Some of the Chinese citizens of Honolulu celebrated the festival of the Autumn moon last night.

They are having "beauty shows" in America—the proper thing for Honolulu would be a Wahine show.

Captain Morse brought the Alameda back yesterday. It was rumored that he would resign his position this last trip.

Messrs. J. M. Oat, Jr. & Co. kept their store open last night until ten o'clock on account of the two-weeks mail.

The streets were full of serenaders last night and some of the serenaders were fuller than the streets or the moon—gin full in fact.

Mr. Frank Gertz, Jr. is having his shoe store on Fort Street refurbished and handsomely adorned with the aid of a bucket of paint.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Staples returned to Honolulu by the steamer Planter and are again living in their home on Adams' Lane.

There was a young maiden from Frisco Came down on the Alameda; She flirted up Fort street so brisk, O It made the young fellows ha! ha!

The booming of guns early yesterday morning announced the arrival of the Italian man-of-war Christopher Columbus from Japan.

Jim Dodd's goat breakfasted on a hat yesterday morning; the native who owned the hat wears Jim has got to pay for it or give him a "little brown jug" for consolation.

Dr. Rodgers and others interested in the Honolulu Library have been lately overhauling the books and putting them in ship-shape. Many of them have been re-labeled.

The H. R. boys held bayonet drill last night. There was a fine attendance and the boys pointed their guns with creditable accuracy. Captain Aldrich was in command.

The Japanese women brought here are learning the ways of civilization "a right smart." Last evening some young fellows were having a "picnic" with some of them on the street.

It is reported that Hon. Paul Neumann was out on the streets of the day before the Alameda left San Francisco and that he will probably be down by the next steamer for the Colonies.

How much is to be made of our Italian visitors? Already they are to be seen on our streets in their smart light dress. Is the light fantastic too to be brought into play or is the youth of Honolulu asleep?

Mr. C. Afong has contracted for forty of the Chinese laborers who arrived by the Alameda and will probably send them to Pepeekeo by the Haleakala which is expected to arrive here tomorrow or the next day.

A secret police expedition was out on the bay last night—probably looking for opium from the Alameda—they started from the boat stairs near the Honolulu Boat House. They all got wet in the rain but they didn't catch the half-pound tin.

Yesterday afternoon a Chinaman who lives on the Palama road was endeavoring to explore the intricacies of an old revolver and succeeded in demonstrating that a bullet with 40 grains of powder behind it will amputate a finger quicker 'n Dr. Webb.

Yesterday morning a native mule-mauler tried to eat up an Italian hackman as it were. They fought and they fought in front of Lucas' planing mill on Fort street. The mule, it ran and it ran, and is reported to have been stopped with nothing broken but its whiffletree. Poor mule! how it must have suffered.

There was almost a runaway yesterday afternoon on Beretania street caused by a native boy with a sack over his head. A lady was driving a carriage when the boy started across the street and frightened the horse, which a hackman fortunately caught before it ran away.

Speaking of the Mechanics Fair in San Francisco the S. F. Bulletin says that crowds are constantly being the Kilauea pictures and adds: "Tavernier's picture of Kilauea continue to attract much attention. The realism of these portrayals seems to astonish and impress all."

A hackman tried yesterday to solve the problem that twice two fares are fifty cents within the ten-cent bounds, but his passengers convinced him that twice two are twenty cents and he was prevailed upon to take Hawaiian gold to the amount of two bits and depart without any back talk.

Mr. Jimmie Williams will offer for sale, as soon as they are toned down, the pictures he took last Saturday of the Honolulu and Oceanic base ball nines. Jimmie says the girls will all buy 'em and declares that he will give the sporting editor of the Press one, provided he can "catch on."

A gay party of ice cream eaters were helping Mr. Henry Hart increase his banking business last night. While they ingested Mr. Hart's sweet coolness they were serenaded from an adjoining room by a young man who wound his cheek in imitation of a bagpipe. "Jack where art thou?"

The residents on the mauka side of King street, between Maunakea and the bridge are waiting anxiously as they have done for several months, for heavy rains to do their scavenging work. The gentle zephyrs waft, the and stronger breezes swirl the dust and filth into the gutter where it is to be found rotting and reeking forth a hateful odor.

Mr. Berger's boys blew horns full of merry notes for the pretty girls last night at the Central Park skating rink. Some of the boys got real jealous and declared that if the band boys didn't quit entertaining the girls so muchly that they would have to slide out. Some of them did—on skates, swinging the poetical Venuses with them. Mr. D. P. Smith was there wearing a bright smile and a new suit of clothes.

The public duly appreciate the building of the new side-walk in front of Williams & Co.'s on Fort street. "Lo, these many months we have turned our ankles and have grumbled not; yet notwithstanding our heavy grievances we have murmured not, when, in justice, we should have risen in our might and swept the pedal nuisance from the face of Hawaiian earth. O, most worthy property owner! thou hast won our single regard and thy former laches are forgotten.

They say that Fishel will soon enlarge his store by taking down the partition; that Paul Neumann will be in at the Hawaiian political finish; that Sam McKeague sometimes sits down unceremoniously; that Jimmy Boyd knows why he does it; that the advance in the price of sugar won't affect the tea trade; that the Puritan will be beaten if she sails with a spanking breeze; that the banks sent per cent. after the $; that the poor can testify that per cent. got the $; that the younger boat clubs ought to get out and practice; that the Government is right and that the Hilo planters ought to have read the immigration law before they committed themselves on paper; that some of them wish they had; that the gay boys who sing the loudest can't always read their notes; that the "little tailor" says the Islands are not big enough; that he will not return because he cannot "cut out" a fortune and keep it dry; that the baseball boys will strike out a new line of conduct; that the wise man prompts the miller; the miller brings the grist to the mill; that fun is fun—sometimes.

A Lapse

After an absence of seven months Mrs. J. H. Reist returned from the Coast yesterday. She was warmly welcomed by many of her friends at the wharf. According to previous arrangements made by her husband, the general Mr. Harry Reist of the Interior Department, Mrs. Reist was greeted with a happy surprise when she reached her home at Aala, on the Palama road and found that the house was chock full of friends and luau. After a Kona of congratulations the entire company met in the dining hall below and proceeded to express their good will by eating up all they could of the beautiful repast provided. Yum, yum it was awful good and there was only a shade of disappointment would pass over Jimmie Boyd's face when he reached the bottom of his glass—until it was filled again. Mr. Harry Reist was so perfectly happy that he could hardly eat for smiling and he seemed to have forgotten all the lights and shades of his summer life. The "feed" was beautifully laid out upon the floor in the form of an X and the company feasted and laughed and talked until everybody was filled to the neck, as the saying goes. Captain Mehrrens toasted the re-united couple in a few appropriate remarks, which were followed by some characteristic words uttered by Mr. Sam McKeague—words of advice and counsel—before he finally reached for the floor and sat down mighty hard. Somebody had removed the chair. The good time lasted all the afternoon. Mrs. Reist looks younger than ever, and although she is in love with the Coast climate she says she is glad to get back to her Island home. Among the guests present were the following: Captains Mehrrens and Fehleber, Messrs. W. H. Cummings, Charles Hopkins, Sam McKeague, George Beckley, Henry Hart, Oliver Sullivan, Mr. Mossman, William Hall and George Smithies. Mesdames, Holt, Joye, Fehleber, O. Holt, J. Holt, Webb, H. Hart, Wilson, Raupp, Hopkins, Sullivan, Apai, Raupp, Miss Julia English and others.

Williams, Diamond & Co.'s Circular.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15, 1885.

DEAR SIR: Our last circular was dated Sept. 1st, per steamer Mariposa.

SUGAR—We have to note considerable of a change in the prices of refined in our local market. The California Sugar Refinery having advanced its prices to-day 2 cents per pound on all grades.

EASTERN AND FOREIGN MARKETS—The situation has greatly improved, and raws have steadily advanced. The statistical position also continues to improve in all respects.

Our latest mail advices from New York state that market for both raws and refined has ruled active and strong at prices that show a further advance.

Refiners have shown a disposition to supply their wants steadily from spot stock and the increasing demand for refined as well as the hardening tendency of the London market has strengthened the confidence of buyers as well as sellers, and resulted in higher prices being paid.

The general condition of all the sugar markets of the world is healthy and prices are tending upward.

Our latest telegraphic advices state that the improvement continues as noted above. The present crop is estimated by M. Licht at 2,070,000 tons, other estimates in round numbers.

Cuba Centrifugals 95 per cent test 6 5-16 cents. London Beets 88 per cent, test 16 cents. The Manila basis advanced on the 9th inst. to 5.60 and again on the 14th to 5.70 for 91 per cent.

RICE—The new crop of Carolina is very abundant and is being forced on the Eastern market. Prices are very low, and it can be laid down here at 5 cents and 5 1/4 cents.

The Island article has had to follow the market and prices have declined the last week, all holders showing a disposition to sell.

We quote price at 5 1/4 @ 5 1/2 cents. CHARTERS—Few transactions have taken place since our last, at unchanged prices. English advices several days past have shown more firmness, owing to bad weather there, and some enquiry has existed.

Last charter, an iron ship 275, 6d. Liverpool, and at the close 30s. Cork U. K. is bid for same class without result, 32s. 6d. being the asking rate. Nothing done in wood.

Exchange London 60 days $4.83, U. S. sight 3 1/2 per cent. FLOUR—G. G. extra family $4.50. El Dorado $3.35. LIME—$1.40 @ $1.50. BRAN—$1.50 per ton.

BARLEY—$1 feed, $1.30 per cental. GROUND BARLEY—$2.50 per ton. OATS—Fair $1.20, medium $1.30, choice $1.40. HAY—Compressed W. & O. $13.00 to $14.00. Large bales $13.00 to $16.00.

Merchant Vessels Now in Port.
